Herbs that Stop Bleeding

Types of bleeding:

- nosebleed
- coughing up blood
- vomiting blood
- blood in the stool
- blood in the urine
- profuse menses
- abnormal uterine bleeding (spotting, bleeding during pregnancy)
- bleeding due to trauma

Herbs that Stop Bleeding

Causes of internal bleeding:

1. blood stasis
2. blood heat
3. deficiency cold

- Blood Stasis: stagnation obstructs the normal passageway, forcing blood to move outside of the vessel
- Blood Heat: excessive yang quickens the blood and causes it to move recklessly outside of the vessel
- Deficiency Cold: Because of Spleen yang deficiency, the Spleen fails in its function of holding blood inside the vessels, and the blood leaks out

Many of these herbs can be used in their charred form to enhance their ability to stop bleeding.

Most herbs in this category enter the Liver channel.

- The formula was developed by Qu Huanzhang in 1902. It became famous when it was used by soldiers during the Battle of Taierzhuang in 1938.
- In 1956, Qu's wife donated the formula to the Chinese government. The formula composition is still a secret. The ingredients are compounded by 13 separate teams, none of whom have any knowledge of what the other teams are preparing. Most people, however, guess that San Qi is a key component.
- Yunnan Baiyao is also very commonly used in veterinary medicine.
